SOVIET TERMS ON BLOCKADE ARE AWAITED

Reports That Russians Are Ready to Fix Agreeable Date for Discussions Are Not Confirmed

PRESIDENT CONFIDENT

BULLETIN
Washington, April 28.—(P)—President Truman said today he believes the Russians are acting in good faith in their new moves toward lifting of the Berlin blockade. The president told a news conference that if he didn't think the Russian feelers were advanced in good faith the United States would not be continuing conversations on the matter. These conversations have now reached the stage of final decision with Russia controlling the next move.

New York, April 28.—(Z)—The world waited today for Russia's official reply to a western request that she state formally and exactly her terms for lifting the Berlin blockade.

There were reports that the Soviets already have replied that they will call off the blockade if the western Allies will end their counter-blockade and fix a mutual agreeable date for four-power discussions of the entire German problem.

Statements of many nations expressed hope that the east and west may be on the verge of negotiations which, with careful and patient handling, might bring the cold war to an end.

A dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore in Moscow said diplomats considered Russia and the three western powers may have made a start toward a new stage of mutual relations. Nobody was predicting a settlement, he said, but they felt a settlement could result. Gilmore's dispatch passed through Russian censorship, but the copy he sent did not indicate whether there had been any deletions by the censor.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, American Ambassador-at-Large, submitted yesterday the request that the Russians say officially and in writing what they have in mind as terms for lifting the blockade, a main cold war issue. Jessup's possibly momentous 92-minute meeting with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Jakob A. Malik, was surrounded by unusual secrecy. (Turn to Page Twelve)

Jamestown Morning Paper Is Launched

Jamestown, N. Y., April 28.—(P)—The Jamestown Sun, a morning daily newspaper, began publication today.

The first edition was a two-section, 40-page newspaper of standard eight-column size. About 15,000 copies were printed on three 16-page press units.

About 700 stockholders own the new journal. It is being published in facilities converted from a former job printing plant and an adjoining garage.

Harry E. Sharkey, a former assistant editor of The York (Pa.) Gazette and Daily, is the Sun's editor and general manager. A. E. Thronquist, formerly of The Pittsburgh (Pa.) Press, is advertising manager and George D. Boyd, circulation manager of the old Jamestown Evening Journal, is in charge of the Sun's circulation.

The Sun is the city's second current daily newspaper. The Jamestown Post-Journal is an afternoon publication.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

Meadville, April 28.—(P)—The Women's Presbyterian Society of the Erie Presbytery yesterday elected Mrs. George H. Miller, Erie, president.

The group, ending a two-day meeting here, also named Mrs. Edward Hughes of Rocky Grove, vice president for the southwestern district.

New Patronage Rules Leave Many Democrats Out in Cold

Washington, April 28.—(P)—President Truman indicated today that patronage may be withheld from members of congress who refuse to support legislation carrying out the party platform.

Discussing yesterday's conference with Democratic party and congressional leaders, the president said that Democrats are those people who support the Democratic platform.

Proposed Drastic Curtailment Of Taxing Powers Comes to A Showdown In Assembly

Harrisburg, April 28.—(P)—Proposed drastic curtailment of the taxing powers of municipalities and school districts came to a show-down today as the General Assembly headed into the 1949 session.

The battle over the controversial 1947 local tax law was centered in the house, which first passed it, then authorized local wage levies in a hectic early morning session.

The senate already has approved the measure which would prohibit local taxes on coal or other natural resources, farm and manufactured products and impose ceilings on permissive levies.

It would also take away the authority of school districts to levy taxes on the wages of non-residents but continue it for cities, boroughs, towns and first class townships.

The wage tax ban was first inserted in the senate bill by a 10-95 vote when a handful of Republicans joined the Democratic majority in overriding the administration stand. Both sides immediately said the action had dealt the entire measure a death blow.

But hours of frantic behind-the-scenes maneuvering brought a second vote in a midnight session and the wage tax ban was voted down 90-107.

The Republicans who had joined with Democrats the first time, reversed their stand.

Viewing with the local tax controversy for the legislative limelight on the final day were these other top and still undecided issues: Final approval by the senate of Gov. James H. Duff's $15,000,000 housing program with Sen. John M. Walker, senate Republican leader, expecting some defections in the GOP ranks on the proposal to grant flat subsidies to encourage construction of low rental homes.

Solution of the five-week-old dispute between the senate and house over a $2,300,000 refund to beer distributors.

Votes were slated either in the senate or house on legislation to: Modernize Pennsylvania's military laws, including a proposal to bar all discrimination in the National Guard and other militia units due to race, creed or color.

Authorize the State Liquor Control Board and other aggrieved parties to appeal to the State Superior court in liquor license and enforcement cases.

Establish jobless benefits for partially employed workers through the accumulation of time lost instead of low earnings as at present.

Allow the state for the first time to contribute toward the construction costs of new school buildings by helping local districts pay (Turn to Page Twelve)

Bearded Hermit Wants to See Lawyer About Draft Situation

New York, April 28.—(P)—Brooklyn's bearded hermit, who sat out World War 2 in a tiny sealed chamber, wants to see a lawyer before he discusses his draft status with federal agents.

U. S. Attorney J. Vincent Keogh said he sent two FBI men to Kings County Hospital yesterday to talk to 33-year-old Paul Makushak, who is under mental observation after ten years' voluntary confinement.

The FBI agents sought to question the fugitive from the world about apparent failure to register for military service, Keogh said, but Makushak refused to talk "until I speak to my lawyer."

Keogh said no further effort to question the patient would be made until after psychiatrists report on his condition.

Makushak still wants to go back to the tiny cell in his mother's tenement where police found him Tuesday night, filthy, shoeless and in rags.

Leaders Seek Plan To Save Labor Act

Washington, April 28.—(P)—House administration leaders said today they will accept certain amendments to their Taft-Hartley repeal bill to save it from defeat by Republicans and southern Democrats.

They claimed a minimum of 210 votes for a modified version of the Lesinski bill as a decisive vote approached—possibly late today but probably not until tomorrow.

Normally, that total would be enough to send their bill to the senate. The measure would repeal the Taft-Hartley labor act and replace it with a union-backed measure modeled after the 1935 Wagner act.

But opponents still publicly claimed an edge in voting strength. They hoped to substitute a bill introduced by Rep. Wood (D-Ga.) which would retain most of the Taft-Hartley law's major provisions.

Some labor spokesmen have called the Wood bill a tougher measure than the original Taft-Hartley law.

ESCAPE GATE CLOSING FAST AT SHANGHAI

American Liner President Wilson Likely to Be Last Vessel to Call Sails Down Whangpoo

1,500 YANKS REMAIN

Shanghai, April 28.—(P)—The escape gate from Communist threatened Shanghai began closing slowly today.

For foreigners, the last ships were preparing to get underway. For the Chinese, land routes were coming under Red troop domination. Airplanes still took out refugees over land and sea.

The American liner President Wilson, likely to be the last liner to call here for some time, sailed down the Whangpoo this afternoon. Aboard were 200 evacuees, 130 of them American.

Those Americans who elected to stay in Shanghai—some 1,500 of them—are now here come what may.

One small U. S. navy craft during the afternoon took a few straggler refugees down the river to the hospital ship refuge. Navy sources hinted that may be the last boat out.

Big naval craft moored down the river, out of range of Communist shore guns, may depart tonight or tomorrow, one naval officer said.

British warships still are in the Yangtze and Whangpoo but the British are not undertaking emergency evacuations.

People who leave Shanghai from now on will move mostly by air. Both the American Northwest Airlines and Pan-American still are running regular flights, and some special planes to the United States, Manila and Hong Kong. British flying boats are going to Hong Kong and Tokyo daily. All are booked solid until next week.

The approaching Communists appeared to be at least 30 or 40 miles away in mid-afternoon although they took Soochow (Wuhu), about 50 miles west of Shanghai, early yesterday. Their advance may be slowed down because they still have not sufficient forces ferried across the Yangtze to handle the various drives which are developing.

The Reds seemed to be taking their time toward Shanghai possibly because they want an adequate occupying force at hand when they enter the city. Shanghai, the world's fourth largest city, is also big geographically and the Reds will need many men even for a peaceful takeover.

TAKES NEW POST

Oil City, April 28.—(P)—The Pennsylvania Grade Guide Oil Association today announced appointment of Jack Cashell of Columbus, O., to membership on its production research advisory committee. Cashell is employed by the Preston Oil Co. of Columbus. His chief assignment has been development of the company's recovery oil projects in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Theodore Roosevelt New Commerce Head

Harrisburg, April 28.—(P)—The senate, by unanimous vote, confirmed Gov. James H. Duff's appointment of Theodore Roosevelt, 3rd, as state secretary of commerce.

The senate also confirmed re-appointment of Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, Wilkes-Barre, to the State Parole Board, and George Young, Washington, Pa., to the State Civil Service Commission, each for another four year term.

Roosevelt, Philadelphia investment banker, succeeds Or. R. J. Matthews, Philadelphia, who resigned January 1 from the Commerce Department post.

500 ARE LAID OFF

Pittsburgh, April 28.—(P)—Westinghouse Air Brake Co. at nearby Withering will lay off 500 workers this weekend. A company spokesman said most of the workers will be laid because of a reduction in freight car building schedules.

OFFICER FOUND DEAD

Pittsburgh, April 28.—(P)—Police today investigated the death of James J. Mullien, veteran police officer found dead of a bullet wound in his apartment yesterday. Mullien, 45, had been a member of the force 22 years.

Business Census Enumerator For Two Counties is Named

Announcement was made today of the appointment of Inez Sutherland Wilkins, of 210 East Street, Warren, as enumerator for Warren and Forest counties for a business census being conducted by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The announcement was made by R. W. Foley, chief interviewer for the northwestern Pennsylvania district which includes Warren, Forest, Erie, Crawford and Mercer counties.

The survey will get under way in Warren borough Monday, and will continue in the two county areas for approximately six months. The census is part of a periodic business survey made by the commerce department, starting in 1929. This year, manufacturing firms are exempt, since they were surveyed in 1948.

Owners and manager of establishments are required by law to supply complete information as specified on report forms furnished by the department. All information is confidential and cannot be used for taxation, regulation or investigation purposes.

Reports will require name of establishment, owners' names, business address, type of business, legal form of organization, total sales during 1949, receipts from repairs and other customer services, sales and excise taxes collected, amount of weekly payroll and number of employees.

Acheson Blames Russia for Atlantic Pact Need

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the first witness in public hearings on the North Atlantic Pact, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that Soviet Russia's aggressive action makes the pact and the arms-for-Europe program essential to maintain world peace. Acheson, at left, is shown being greeted by members of the committee as he appeared to testify. The senators, left to right, are: H. Alexander Smith (R. of N. J.); Alexander Wiley (R. of Wis.); Arthur H. Vandenberg (R. of Mich.); and Tom Connally (D. of Texas), committee chairman.

President is Hopeful Calder Will Accept Sec. of Army Post

Washington, April 28.—(P)—President Truman said today he hopes that Curtis E. Calder, New York utilities executive, will accept appointment as secretary of the army.

Mr. Truman also told a news conference that Jonathan Daniels, editor of The Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer is under consideration for appointment as secretary of the navy.

The jobs of Secretary of the Army and Navy still were open, and President Truman and Secretary of Defense Johnson were discovering that a number of people apparently don't want the posts.

Yesterday the administration thought it had a new secretary of the army to succeed Kenneth C. Royall, who left the Pentagon last night. Word went around that Curtis E. Calder, utilities executive, had agreed to begin work in 60 days.

But when Calder read about it, he called the Associated Press in New York and asserted that "I have not accepted the secretaryship of the army today or accepted it for 60 days from now."

The vacancy in the navy secretaryship was a comparatively new problem.

It was only Tuesday when John L. Sullivan rose up in wrath against Johnson's order to stop construction of the navy's super aircraft carrier and told President Truman he wanted to leave "at the earliest date convenient to you."

In administration circles, it had been expected that Sullivan would leave some time during the next few months, but not this week.

W. John Kennedy, the undersecretary, will carry on as acting secretary.

There was no suggestion that Secretary of Air W. Stuart Symington might step out. However, vacancy in his office has existed for some time, caused by the resignation of Assistant Secretary Cornelius V. Whitney.

The only official explanation so far of the difficulty in getting replacements for these men was the recent news conference comment of President Truman. Discussing no particular office, he observed that "a government appointee has to be an iron man with an elephant hide."

WNAE to Originate Coast-to-Coast Program Sunday Noon

When "Wings Over Jordan" comes to Warren on Sunday, May 1st, two performances will be given. A concert will be given in the First Presbyterian church at 8:00 p. m. This performance of concert is the public program by the group and is open to the public. The other program will be seen by few, but will be heard by many. This program will be heard at 12:00 noon and will be heard from coast-to-coast.

The evening program is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club as a benefit for the Crippled Children's Fund.

For several months "Wings Over Jordan" has been a Sunday feature of the Mutual Broadcasting System. This Sunday, the program WNAE. This is the first time WNAE has ever been the originating point for a network feed.

"Wings Over Jordan," incidentally, has been on the air on Sundays for over 10 years on another network.

While the program itself will be similar to many others that have been put on the air from the local studios, knowing the program is going to over 520 radio stations across the nation will probably have the staff at the station as high on their toes as they can get.

Instructions have been received from the Mutual headquarters in New York giving the requirements for the production of the program. This will require the main studio, with piano, three microphones, two for music and one for narration and an announcer and engineer. The group also requires two full jobs of technical in the studio before putting the program on the air.

To transmit the program from Warren to the entire Mutual network, a special telephone circuit (Turn to Page Twelve)

Temperatures To Be Near-Freezing Tonight

Pittsburgh, April 28.—(P)—Those sunny skies don't look threatening, but the weatherman says they are.

District temperatures will drop to near-freezing levels tonight, according to the weather bureau, because there are no clouds to slow the cooling of the atmosphere.

Weatherman Henry Rockwood said clouds act as "brakes" in temperature variations. But tomorrow the mercury will rise to a pleasant 70 degrees, he predicted.

Austin Urges Approval of Atlantic Pact

Washington, April 28.—(P)—Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, told senators today Russia is losing the "cold war" and Soviet rulers are beginning to find it out.

Austin couched a bitter attack on Russia with a plea for senate approval of the North Atlantic Treaty.

The former Vermont senator told the Senate Foreign Relations committee that the pact would promote U. N. efforts to keep the peace and "increase its ability to remove causes of war."

Austin accused the Soviets of "brazenly" violating U. N. Charter pledges to refrain from use of threats and force against other countries. He said this "deliberate and calculated policy of obstruction" had crippled the U. N. and hampered work on peace treaties.

But, he said, the Soviets are (Turn to Page Twelve)

CARS WAYLaid BY BANDITS IN SIERRA MADRE

Mrs. Aurora Quezon, Daughter and Son-in-law Among Victims of Holdup

BANDITS ARE BLAMED

Manila, April 28.—(P)—Mrs. Aurora Quezon, widow of the Philippines' first president, her daughter and son-in-law were killed today in a bloody machine gun ambuscade that brought death to 10 persons.

Ten others were wounded. President Elpidio Quirino, notified of the ambush in the mountains of northern Luzon, ordered an immediate campaign against the killers, whom he identified as bandits.

The Quezon party, with an armed constabulary escort, left Manila shortly after 5 a. m. local time, for Baler on the northeast coast of Luzon. The 60-year-old widow was to have unveiled a marker in memory of her husband, Manuel Quezon.

Incomplete reports here said the party was moving through a narrow gorge of the Sierra Madre mountains 82 air miles from Manila when a burst of machine-gun fire riddled the first two automobiles. They carried Mrs. Quezon and her immediate party. The attack came between 10 and 11:30 a. m.

Constabulary troopers returned the fire. There was a sharp fight in which the troopers suffered three dead and seven wounded.

The remaining members of the party were forced to retreat and raced back to the village of Bangalong, where constabulary reinforcements were called.

Later at the scene of the ambush the constabulary found the bodies of Mrs. Quezon, her daughter, Maria Aurora (Baby) Quezon, and the mortally wounded Felipe Buencamino, III, 28, husband of Mrs. Quezon's youngest daughter, Zenaida.

Also dead were Mayor Ponciano Bernardo of Quezon City (outside Manila), Maj. Primitivo San Augustin and his brother Maj. Antonio San Augustin, both noted guerrilla fighters during the war with Japan, a Lieutenant Lizzam and three constabulary privates.

The wounded included Maj. Gen. Rafael Jalandoni, retired Army chief of staff, who notified President Quirino and the Philippine (Turn to Page Twelve)

School Bus Measure Back In Conference

Harrisburg, April 28.—(P)—A last minute snag hit a bill today requiring automobile traffic to halt while school buses load or unload passengers.

The senate passed the house-approved measure yesterday but changes made by the senate sent it to a conference of the two branches.

"There is no great divergence of opinion," commented Rep. William McMillen (R-Indiana), co-sponsor of the bill. "We just want to look again at provisions that do not require buses owned by bus lines to be painted. We want to be fair to the traveling public, school boards and parents."

As passed by the house, the bill would require all school buses to use black and white checkered red and red to be painted a shade of orange. However, the senate in setting an exemption for buses carrying other passengers as well as school children.

The main provision of the measure would require traffic in both directions to come to a stop not less than 10 feet away while school bus is loading or unloading pupils along a highway.

"Voice From Grave" Accents Claim Man is W.C. Fields' Son

Los Angeles, April 28.—(P)—A "voice from the grave" of a famous Hollywood actor today accented a man's claim that he is the son of W. C. Fields and entitled to a share of the comedian's $771,428 estate.

On file in superior court are a deathbed letter written by the comedian and also letters allegedly written by Fields.

The letters are part of a deposition filed in probate court yesterday in behalf of William Rexford Fields Morris, who claims to be Fields' son. His whereabouts and occupation were not disclosed.

He is represented by a Boston law firm and by Louis Thomsen, Los Angeles attorney.

A petition accompanying the deposition said statements in it were made April 16 at Oxnard, Mass., by Bessie Adelaide Witherell, mother of the Folies girl, Bessie Witherell.

Morris filed a petition in superior court here last Feb. 3 to determine heirship in the many-sided contest over the estate of Fields, who died Christmas Day, 1946. Morris was not mentioned in Fields' will, dated April 28, 1943. The comedian's long estranged wife, Mrs. Harriet V. Fields, who was bequeathed $10,000 in suing for a widow's share in gifts made by Fields.

Mrs. Witherell's deposition said her daughter, who died Oct. 8, 1928 was in the Ziegfeld Follies in 1913 or 1914 and that she was infatuated with W. C. Fields, and appeared with him in a vaudeville act.

Mrs. Witherell's deposition said she first learned of the child's existence in a deathbed letter from her daughter.

Clark Gable-Walter Pidgeon In "Command Decision" At The Library Theatre Sunday, Monday, & Tuesday

"Command Decision," the William Wyler Haines play which scored an enormous success on Broadway now comes to the Library screen Sunday, Monday, Tuesday in a gripping M-G-M film version. It is a motion picture studded by some of the finest performances of the year by a brilliant all-male cast topped by Clark Gable, Walter Pidgeon, Van Johnson, Brian Donlevy, John Hodiak, Charles Bickford and Edward Arnold.

Here we have an outstanding demonstration of a topnotch dramatic work given even greater scope in its translation into screen terms. The story of an intrepid Air Force general who has to face the momentous decision of sacrificing the future of daylight bombing for the larger end of saving the lives of millions of American flyers is given a heart-rending validity and power in its imaginative camera treatment and its panoramic view of a bombing mission, the crews who man its flying fortresses and the topechelon commanders who carry the burden of success or failure on their shoulders.

The dialogue is incisive and sharp, the picture's backgrounds have tense realism, and Director Sam Wood has kept his action at a sustained pace without submerging the arresting personalities of his principals. As a result, "Command Decision" emerges as a moving and powerful photoplay which everyone will want to see.

BILL STRANDED

A bill which would have created a non-partisan ballot for the election of school directors in Pennsylvania communities was stranded in senate committee in Harrisburg this week. Legislators said too little time remains before adjournment to complete the addition of amendments and pass it by the house and senate.

MARIENVILLE ACCIDENT

Tionesta state police Wednesday said approximately $180 damage was caused to a car and truck involved in an accident in Marienville Tuesday afternoon. They said the car was driven by Ruth McDonald of Marienville and the truck, owned by the Bell Telephone Co., was operated by Melvin McKisson of Tionesta. No one was injured in the mishap.

FISH STOCKED

Eighty cans of fingerling brook trout were stocked yesterday morning in the Youngsville, Spring Creek and Tidoute areas. Members of the Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club took care of the placing of 40 cans in Matthew's, Dunn, Barton, Gai, Mead, Morris, Funky, Osmer and Sullivan runs. Ten cans were put out in the Spring Creek area and 50 cans in the Tidoute area.

IN SERVICE AGAIN

After fifteen years, the court house clock at Meadville is telling the correct time again—at least, it's giving daylight saving time. The west, north and south faces of the huge tower timepiece now point to the time, and the east face soon will be in working order. Experts under R. G. Jackson of the Tower Clock Service Company of Springfield, O., recently installed an all-new driving mechanism powered by electricity. On the old face and hands were used. The old driving mechanism had "stopped short, never to go again," at least it had appeared that way until the present board of County Commissioners arranged to do something about it.

MONEY STOLEN

Tionesta police are investigating theft of a packet containing 100 new one dollar bills taken from the home of Porter Rice of 103 North Second street last Sunday afternoon. Officers who were called to investigate said Mr. Rice and Mrs. Julia McKenzie his housekeeper left the house for a ride about 1:30. Upon returning shortly after 3 Mrs. McKenzie went to Mr. Rice's bedroom to get him a tonic and discovered someone had entered the house and ransacked the room. The bedclothes had been turned back and dresser drawers were open. The packet of money was missing from one of the drawers but the thief evidently overlooked a gold watch on the top of the dresser. Mrs. McKenzie told the police the house had not been locked when they left to go for a ride.

HEALTH BILL WORTH LOOKING AT

It's probably pointless to talk about President Truman's compulsory health insurance program since everybody in the know seems to have killed it off in advance. But after last November's election you can't be too sure about anything. So maybe the legislation should be given an outside chance of being considered.

A bill to set up this program has been kicking around in Congress for quite a few years, and Mr. Truman has been pushing it since he took office. It has aroused a great deal of heat from both sides. Now it might be well if there were a little more light on the subject, suggests James Thrasher in an editorial written for NEA Service.

Enough people have shuddered at the mention of "socialized medicine" and stopped thinking right there. Enough hard names have been thrown at the American Medical Association. Enough exaggerated claims have been made by both sides. No more of that is needed.

Congress might better start working from the one big point of general agreement: Better health service and medical care are needed for all the people. Voluntary health insurance was the first attempt to provide it. The compulsory insurance proposal was next. Now there is a proposal to make federal funds available to the states for the same purpose. Which one is best?

Before Congress decides—if it ever is going to—a sensible move might be a thorough examination of the British program of nationalized medical care. It has not been going too long but enough vices and virtues should already be apparent to serve as a valuable guide to American action.

The fear of "socialism" may well turn out to be a minor consideration. Such things as minimum wages and maximum hours, prohibition of child labor and a graduated income tax were rank socialism 40 years ago. The question is which plan will guarantee the most adequate medical care with the least cost and the greatest fairness to all concerned.

The country does not have any quarrel with the noble profession of medicine. The problem is the inadequate number of doctors in certain regions and the inadequate money to employ them at certain social levels. Congress should be able to tackle that problem without any more emotionalism or animosity.

APRIL EVENING

(The New York Times)

The daylight is longer, much longer, now, and the dusk itself has a persistence that it lacked two months ago. Then the sun hovered for a brief moment on the western horizon, plunged out of sight and left the world to darkness. Now it seems to hover there several moments, and it vanishes in a glow that lingers, a soft twilight that fades slowly into darkness.

And the stars come slowly into sight instead of bursting into full glow. The Dipper rides high, almost directly above the Pole star, and Cassiopeia and Cepheus are down near the horizon. In the south Leo stands high and Scorpius and Libra are low. But all of them are patient about their coming. They can wait for the frog-trill to reach its evening peak.

The evenings are full of sound now, too; not only the frogs but a few of the birds can be heard after sunset. It is yet too early for the insect chorus, but life is up and stirring. You can sense sounds that you cannot yet hear, and you know that dusk does not clamp down with the deep silence.

Perhaps the most noticeable change of all is in the evening silhouettes. The trees begin to have substance now instead of mere skeletal shadows. Maple leaves are spreading. Even in the deep dusk you can see less starlight through the apple trees. The shape of shade to come is almost evident. And with this substance comes a new voice in the wind. The dry rustle and rasp of branch on branch gives way to the whisper of little leaves, each grasping at and fluttering in the downhill breeze. It is a live sound, for the evening itself has come to life—in late April.

It is estimated this year's health tax in Britain will be 208 millions higher than last year. It's enough to make them sick.

Strange how easily a bore can drill a hole in anybody's patience.

We Don't Believe It Can Be Done

Here And There

Back in April, 1878, sports enthusiasts of the borough, as now, were busily engaged planning for the forthcoming baseball season, for we find the following item in the April 19 issue of the Warren Ledger: "Anyone who thinks the National game at a discount in our quiet little town should have attended the meeting called for Monday evening, when all lovers of the game assembled, and noted the apparent interest manifested by those present. A goodly company of ball tossers gathered at the Athletic Hall Monday evening, where the feasibility of organizing a baseball club was discussed. W. J. Morris was elected chairman, and A. P. Trushel, secretary. It was stated that the grounds across the river could be leased, and that to put them in shape would cost about $100, which it was proposed to raise by issuing stock at $1 per share. A committee was appointed, consisting of F. K. Russell, A. P. Trushel and M. Glasby, to receive subscriptions. Meeting then adjourned until Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. On Tuesday evening the meeting was called to order and permanent officers elected as follows: President, L. D. Hazeltine; secretary, A. P. Trushel; treasurer, F. K. Russell. Committee on subscriptions reported 90 shares. A committee was then appointed to fix up the grounds, and the meeting adjourned. With the encouragement they deserve, the boys propose to give the citizens of this place some interesting games of ball with such clubs as they can get here. Give the boys a lift and help them along."

Potpourri: From the same issue that carried the above item, we learn "The survey of that portion of the contemplated narrow gauge railroad from Bradford to Warren is being made, A. D. Wood, chief. There are two parties on the route and the survey will probably be completed within the next two weeks. We are not able to give even the probabilities as to the time of the completion of the road. But so long as there is the present activity there is some prospect of its being built." That was quite an event in the history of Odd Fellowship in Youngville Monday evening when our old friend and associate in Three Link circles was presented with a jewel in recognition of fifty years of faithful service, not only to his home lodge, but to subordinate and encampment branches throughout the district. Considering the fact that the presentation was made by Joe Brooks, of Warren, who fifty years ago initiated Mr. McCune into the IOOF, the ceremony goes down in the records as a red letter event for the order in the county. Mr. McCune in a talk following the presentation related interesting events of the past half century, going back to the horse and buggy days when it was tedious and difficult for Odd Fellows to administer to their brothers when circumstances demanded. Mr. McCune recalled among other incidents, exchanges of visits between the Youngville and Sugar Grove lodges, when the trips would be made on the little dinky train which operated between the two towns. . . . A business census being conducted all over the nation, was launched in Erie county this week. The seven census workers assigned to the area will work with retail, wholesale, service, hotel and construction establishments and secure from each a volume of sales, employment figures and location data. A similar census should get under way in Warren county most any time now. . . . Butchering is primarily a man's business but at Penn State College, thirteen girls have completed the course in slaughtering and meat cutting. . . . Former District Attorney J. H. Goldstein, who has been confined to his home by illness since last December, is getting down to the office in the Warren National Bank building for a short time each day, his many friends are pleased to note. . . . Jack McDonald, co-chairman of the Fourth of July Celebration committee, has been in for a couple days doctoring up one of those spring colds, but is out again today. . . . Several hundred folks, young and old, were taking advantage of the long and fair evening by cavorting around Beatty Field last evening. Looked like there were at least three or four "warm, up" softball games under way. Five puppies, about five weeks old, part hound and part spaniel, are looking for good homes. They may be interviewed by calling at 435 Look-out street. . . . Fenelec's new power station at Warren is now furnishing 60% of the Bradford district's electricity. Previously all power for that section was purchased by Fenelec from an outside source, a Bradford informant says. . . . Looks like some person is planning to open a residential development on the old Academy lands, north of the highway opposite the new Fenelec station.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Brannan Seeks to Help Small Farms Without 'Plowing Under'

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation now has on hand vast quantities of surplus potatoes, dried eggs and dried milk. It has bought these surpluses as required by the Aiken-Hope farm bill of 1948. The purpose was to support the price of current farm production. CCC is probably stuck with these surpluses. Nobody wants to buy them at any price. . . . Being perishables, the eggs and milk, in particular, have to be dried—at extra cost—to preserve them for a year or 18 months. But eventually they will have to be made into fertilizer or dumped in the ocean. The loss to the government may reach half a billion dollars. That is only the beginning.

A great big surplus of pork is building up. Under the law, CCC will have to step in and buy this surplus so as to keep the price of pigs from falling below the support level. Some $75,000,000 has already been set aside for this pork buying.

CCC can buy either hogs or finished ham, bacon, sausage and lard. Whatever it buys it must keep. That means either looking for tremendous feed pens and buying feed, or else renting more cold storage space than is available. Pork doesn't keep very well, either, so most of it may eventually be dumped. It should create not only a great smell, but a scream and a scandal. Instead of plowing under little pigs, it would plow under pork chops.

These two predicaments point to the immediate need for revising the present farm legislation and stopping all such nonsense. One suggestion has been to revive the old food stamp plan of depression days. That would permit surplus groceries to be sold to poorer people below open market prices. Cost of such a stamp plan today has been estimated at around $2,000,000,000 a year. The farmers would get half of this. Wholesalers and retailers would get half.

AN alternative to this is Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan's controversial new farm plan. It would introduce a "production payment"—which is a polite name for a farm subsidy. Secretary Brannan and his experts have as yet made no estimates of what their plan would cost. They think it would be less than the present parity price support scheme. They think it would do a lot of other good things, too.

The idea now is to let the farmers keep on producing and to let the market price seek its natural level. Then give the farmers their production payment to represent the difference between the market price and a calculated, 10-year average "support standard price."

This new plan will work a good bit like the present parity price system on non-perishables like cotton, wheat and corn. They can be stored, and it is considered a good idea to have large surplus carry-overs. This insures adequate supplies for war or other emergency, or when there is a crop failure like the 1947 corn crop.

IT is claimed that by this plan, farmers won't be forced to sell when prices begin to fall. This will contribute to a more stable market. It will also contribute to higher-quality production. It is also claimed that by creating a support standard minimum price on meat animals, the Brannan plan will contribute to the conversion of U. S. agriculture from a cotton and grain economy to grass.

The Brannan plan would retain the present law's provisions on marketing agreements and production quotas. If two-thirds of the farmers vote for it, acreage and other limitations may be imposed. Such limits are now in effect on tobacco and peanuts. When production limits are in effect, no price support program is necessary.

The Brannan plan would also introduce another quota factor. It would limit its support standard to the farmer's first 1800 "comparative units" of production. A comparative unit is 10 bushels of corn, 7.7 bushels of wheat, 50 pounds of cotton or an equivalent.

MacKenzie's Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

The western Allies are moving cautiously (though hopefully) to make sure they are seeing a real oasis and not a mirage in the startling Soviet offer to lift the German blockade. . . . The Russians have stated their willingness to abandon the blockade if the democracies in turn will end their counter-blockade and agree to a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers to consider the whole German question. It was the Muscovites who ended the Foreign Ministers Council some sixteen months ago by walking out on it. . . . The western powers—America, Britain and France—are prepared to agree, provided the Russians have no further conditions up their sleeve. The caution is inspired by the fact that, by striking coincidence, the Soviet offer comes as the other three Allies conclude the agreement for the establishment of a new German republic out of the three western zones, with Russia holding out its eastern zone. . . . The western Allies are asking themselves: "Can Moscow's offer be a trick to disrupt the formation of the German government so that Russia can get complete control of a unified German regime which would include the Soviet zone?" Both General Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor in Germany, and U. S. Ambassador Robert D. Murphy, yesterday expressed wariness over the Soviet offer. . . . Last there be any doubt regarding the attitude of the western Allies, they have made it crystal clear that they are going ahead with the creation of the new anti-Communist German republic. . . . A tremendous stride towards the rehabilitation of western Europe would seem to have been made in the agreement to establish this government. The date for its inauguration has been set for July 15. The accord naturally ignores Russia, which occupies close to one-third of the old Reich. . . . Here it should be well noted that the western German leaders aim at a United Germany eventually. They hope a prosperous west German republic will be so attractive to their countrymen in the Soviet zone that a union of the two will be brought about. That could well be, for the Germans are a determined people. . . . In any event, the creation of the republic not only will go far towards restoring the morale of the beaten Germans, but bids fair to give a big boost to the ailing economic situation in western Europe. . . . It must not be overlooked that the great industrial Ruhr lies within the new German state, one of the richest industrial areas in the world. The Ruhr remains under international control but eventually will revert to Germany. . . . Will this encourage the growth of a new militarism in Germany? The Allies have created safeguards against that. While the military governments will end when the republic is inaugurated, the three western powers will appoint civilian high commissioners who will exercise control over western Germany's foreign affairs, foreign trade and various other fields. . . . The fish called the flounder can imitate a pattern as well as the color of their backgrounds. Placed on a checkerboard, the flounder will attempt to reproduce the arrangement of the squares on its body.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

How We Licked The Parking Problem

For a while it looked like we'd have to put up parking meters. Folks working in town—including some of the store owners—were taking up all of the space along Main Street. . . . Farmers coming in to shop never found a place to park, and sometimes had to lug stuff a half mile or so. Some started to do their buying in other towns. Finally, store owners and farmers had a get-together—with the result that the empty field near the depot was fixed up for all-day parkers. . . . Now farmers get their shopping done comfortably, and the merchants have a better place to park than they had before. Just took a little friendly co-operation to make everybody happy. . . . From where I sit, most differences can be ironed out by just talking things over—maybe with a cup of coffee or glass of beer—and seeing the other person's side of it. Next time you have a problem or a little difference to settle, why not try that?

Health Center For Business Men At Y. M.

A new service has been added to the already large YMCA program by the opening of a Business Men's Club Health Center this week.

This health room features a sun lamp as well as private exercise equipment such as chest weights, an Exerov rowing machine, a vibrator, scales for checking accurate weight, etc. Private showers are in the next room, and the swimming pool is also available except when boys' classes are not crowding it for their popular swims.

The locker room in which this new room is located, has been newly painted and new chairs also brighten the picture. For those desiring more strenuous exercise there are the two 4-wall handball courts available for Business Men at all times, the weight-lifting room, and, during the winter season, volleyball games provide light exercises with plenty of fun and good fellowship.

For special summer activity the tennis court will be in fine shape in another week or so and ready for some fine, healthful, outdoor exercise with showers and a swim close at hand following the matches.

There has been no increase in the rates of membership, and inspection of this new Business Men's room is invited.

NOTICE is hereby given that Articles of Incorporation will be filed with the Department of State at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday, May 3, 1949, under the provision of the Business Corporation Law for the charter of an intended corporation to be known as SUGAR GROVE INN, the purpose of which is to carry on the business of the hotel, restaurant, cafe, and tavern and, for these purposes, to have, possess, and enjoy all the rights, benefits, and privileges of said Business Corporation Law.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—In a vast mansion on Mars the president of that planet sat listening to the music of the spheres—the melody made by the stars in their courses. It was his favorite pastime.

But into the universal symphony came a jarring sound. The Martian president frowned and twisted the dials of his electronic radio.

"Again that discordant note!" he exclaimed. "This time I'm going to do something about it. It's been ruining my concerts for the last 10,000 years."

So he called his wise men together. Gravely, one by one, they checked with tuning forks the sound that came from each of the multitudinous bodies in the wide heavens. Then they reported:

"Sire, the jarring noise comes from an obscure planet known as the earth, our neighbor in this constellation."

"That mudball!" said the president.

He had his leading stellar explorer, Rado, brought to him.

"Rado," said the vexed chieftain. "Trot down to earth and see why that flyspeck in the sky is out of tune."

Rado sprayed himself with invisibility lotion, climbed into his two-seater anti-gravity ship and took off. Exactly a year and a day later he returned to Mars. A great mass of Martians was there to greet him.

"Well, what is the earth like?" asked the president.

"It is a beautiful globe, washed by soft seas," said Rado. "It is capped at both ends by mountains and wide fields covered with a cool white substance known as snow. And between the caps are green fields and towering cities full of living things."

"Oh, it is an enchanting place—fairer than our Mars."

"Why is it out of tune then?" said the president crossly.

"I think it is the people," "What, in the name of the Milky Way, are people?"

"There are two forms of life that move about," said the explorer. "One kind is people. The other kind is animals. The people have enslaved some animals and driven the rest into the wilderness."

"How savage!" cried the president. "That explains the discordant note."

"No sire," said Rado. "There is more to it than that. After enslaving the animals, the different peoples began enslaving each other. And they destroy themselves in great disastrous wars. The walls they send up run the music of the stars."

"Life take life!" murmured the president. "Is it possible?"

"On the earth death is often a way of life," said Rado.

"What do these repulsive creatures that call themselves people look like?"

Rado reached into his space ship and pulled out a sleeping human baby.

"I brought one along to show you, sire," he said. "I found it in a war-wrecked village. I fed it star foam on the way up to keep it quiet."

The president looked at the dozing child.

"So small and harmless a thing as this disturbs the harmony of the heavens?" he asked doubtfully.

"It grows up," said Rado.

Customers' Corner

Freshness is an important factor in determining the value of the food you buy.

That is why A&P has an extensive freshness control program, calling for rapid turnover, proper refrigeration, and trained employees.

All these things are designed to insure your finding only fresh foods of top quality at your A&P . . . to insure your getting your money's worth.

If you should ever get any food in our stores that fails to live up to our exacting standards of freshness, we will consider it a favor if you will return it to the store for refund.

And we will appreciate any suggestions you may have as to how we can make your A&P store a better place to shop.

The Conewango Valley

By John P. Sage, Tidioute

CHAPTER THREE

The valley here does not exceed a quarter mile in width and the narrow water in the creek is not over thirty feet wide but which very early confronted me with some difficulty in navigating two miles, while here and there sharp stretches of the creek are sheltered by large spreading limbs from both sides of the bank forming a canopy through which the sunlight trickles and seemingly dances upon the rippling water. The valley is gradually widening and the stream is also fast gaining depth. The Conewango Creek takes its rise in Chautauque County, New York and flows south to the Allegheny river. I fully realize that golden days like this are rare. I am floating long absorbed in my interesting scenery with now and then the silence being broken only by the loud croak of a bull-frog. Suddenly I catch the increasing roar of rushing water. In rounding the curve just ahead I swing into full view of a stretch of wild, rough appearing rapids where here and there rise a boulder above the swift moving water and to complicate the matter further a large oak tree has fallen directly across the main channel. A quick decision to pull for shore or try to shoot the rapids is necessary. I decide on the latter and quickly find myself in the boiling, swirling, churning water, headed straight for the big tree where the swift current carries me. Here amidst the swift water the boat becomes wedged amongst the big limbs. After a time I finally release it and quickly pass over the surging water without further incident. This experience gave rise to serious concern as to what might lay in store ahead. I had been warned about these rapids that were a hundred feet in length and located two miles below Kennedy. Yes, and advised to portage around them, but I preferred to rely on my extensive boating experience on the Allegheny river. As the tumbling water below the rapids became more calm, I sighted not far above my head a large horned owl, with a wing spread of about three feet, winging its way across the creek, holding fast in its talons what appeared to be a black squirrel judging from the black bushy tail trailing along beneath. It is a savage looking bird for which Pennsylvania pays a bounty of $4 because it is a carnivorous bird that obtains its living largely from the capture of small game and birds.

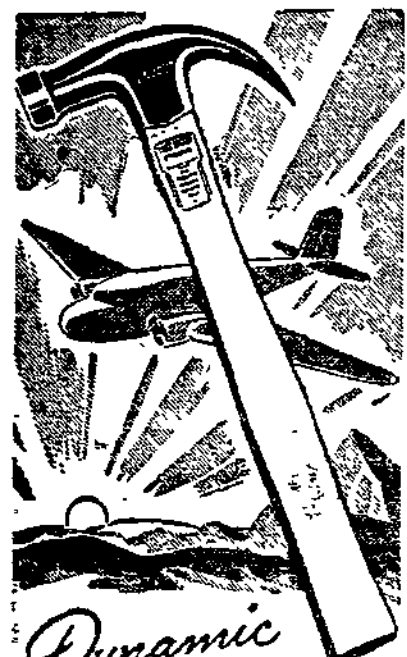

Here the valley has widened to five or six miles I should judge and the creek has fully attained the width of sixty-five feet, with an unusual depth of water that has the decisive earmarks of good fishing grounds. The banks on either side are eight to nine feet high and covered with trees and bushes while many large trees are leaning toward the water at an alarming angle. I passed many boats with fishermen angling in various ways. Some trolling, others casting, and still others baiting with inviting frogs and minnows. Several of them reported fair luck adding "They bit better yesterday." It is not to be wondered that this engaging water furnishes a variety of attractive fish that is hard to surpass in eating qualities. Perhaps the more desirable are the muskellunge, bass and pickerel with a sprinkling of trout. The ever present sucker and bull-head and at last the detested carp which inhabit the stream in ever increasing numbers. In case you are interested, an out of state fishing license in New York costs $4.50.

AREA FATALITIES

Although Pennsylvania's highway fatality total dropped during the first two months of this year when compared with the January-February figure of 1948, McKean and other counties in this region reported increases. McKean county had two highway deaths during the first two months of 1949 and this is exactly double the 1948 mark. Potter and Warren, the adjoining counties reported the same situation while Elk increased three and Crawford two. The state as a whole shows 204 killed in highway accidents during the first two months of this year as compared to 215 during the same period of 1948. Actually, the statewide breakdown reveals that January this year was up 11 over 1948, but February dropped to the lowest mark of the last decade.

EMPLOYEE TAKES CAR

Corry Journal: Roy Alkens, operator of a used car lot and garage in Columbus, Tuesday night appealed to police for aid in apprehending an employee who had taken a car from the lot and driven it away without permission.

COLLAPSES AT WORK

A 64-year-old Meadville city employee, Augustus Brown, collapsed while at his work Tuesday afternoon and died before an ambulance arrived to take him to City hospital, Coroner Dr. L. J. King said.
Brown, reported to have been in bad health for some time, was operating a cement mixer when he collapsed, fellow employees stated.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Judge Allison D. Wade yesterday granted three divorces and held one up pending investigation.
The one held concerned a resident of New York state who has attempted to establish a residence in Pennsylvania, and Judge Wade
tion as to the legality of the Pennsylvania residence. The decrees granted were as follows: Gladys
L. Anderson from Fred C. Ander-

Father-Son
Banquet Held
At Youngsville

Youngsville, April 28—A very successful father and son banquet was held in Saron Lutheran church with a good attendance and a fine dinner. Leo Johnson spoke for the fathers and John McKinney was spokesman for the sons. The devotional part of the program was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Earl Carlson and the speaker of the evening was G. M. Borg, of Warren, president of the District Brotherhood. A moving picture concerning displaced persons of Europe was shown under the title
"Answer for Anne."

The four groups of Youngsville Girl Scouts are planning to go camping this summer and to finance their trips they are to have four bake sales. The first will be held Saturday of this week at Abraham's store and the others will be held on Saturday May 7th, 14th and 21st.

Ardon Johnson came home this week from the hospital and is reported recuperating nicely.

This evening in the high school auditorium, a very interesting Variety Show sponsored by the Brotherhood Grange will be held. The Boy Choir of Warren, directed by Byron Swanson, former local music supervisor, will be featured as well as other special musical attractions and a period of interesting magic.

Sunday evening young adults from Warren sub-district will send representatives and local young people will be welcomed at a tur-ken dinner at six o'clock in the Youngsville Methodist church.
Guests are asked to bring turkeys, sandwiches and table service.

Coffee will be provided locally.
Rev. Wayne Furman, of Warren, will conduct a round table discussion on the needs of young adults.
There will be devotions and group singing.

One of the new books at the Youngsville Library is "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," given by members of the faculty in memory of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. J.
Knapp.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Pension Facts
Of the 2,263,654 veterans on the disability compensation and pension rolls on December 31, 1948, a total of 1,656,858 served in W. W. I., 437,206 were W. W. I. veterans, 43,440 from the Regular Establishment (peace-time); 103,465 were Spanish-American war veterans, 667 Indian Wars survivors, and 38 Civil War veterans. Many veterans of World War II are still eligible for mustering-out pay as provided by the federal government. Although the majority of veterans have been paid, a large group remain who will forfeit their rights in less than a year unless they file soon.

Application may be made any time before February 3, 1950, by any member of the Armed Forces who was not discharged on his own initiative to accept employment and who was not above the rank of major in the army or a corresponding rank in the navy. Other exceptions include those who received an air corps bonus; those who left to enter the United States Military Academy or Naval Academy; and those who were classified as student trainees.

The law provides $300 for veterans with foreign service; $200 for 60 days or more; and $100 for less than 60 days' service.

More Training Due
Ninety-eight per cent of the World War II veterans who have entered training under laws administered by Veterans Administration are eligible for additional training, VA officials said.

By January 31, 1949, a total of 6,228,707 veterans, at one time or another, had entered training under the GI Bill and Public Law 16. Of these 5,749,023 had trained under the GI Bill and 479,684 had enrolled in schools and training establishments under Public Law 16.

Insurance Bonus
Millions of veterans are going to get special checks from the U. S. government, probably during the second half of this year. This money will come in the form of an "insurance bonus," or a refund of part of their payments on service insurance. The amount that will be spread among veterans of W. W. I. is estimated at from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 possibly more.

The average payment probably will be between $90 and $125, largest checks may run up to $300, or more, smallest checks may be as little as 25 or 30 cents. Accounts will depend upon the final size of the fund to be split up and other factors.

The Veterans' Administration plans to pay dividends to almost all of those who took out policies and held them long enough (in force at least 3 months) to qualify for payments.

A simple application form is planned. It will provide for essential identification and applications probably will be sent to regional offices of VA.

Payments of dividends on policies of deceased veterans will be made to the beneficiaries under the policies if no beneficiaries are living, payments will be made to the estates of the deceased veterans.

MEETING The meeting of the State Directors of Veterans Affairs will be held in Harrisburg from May 4th to 7th. The Director of Veterans Affairs will attend this meeting but the office in the Court House will remain open as usual to assist veterans and their families.

Graham bread took its name from Sylvester Graham, an American lecturer on temperance and food reform, who advocated bread made from wheat flour in which all the wheat kernel except the husk was used.

Washington—(NEA)—One of the greatest peace-time promotions ever let loose in the U. S. has been prepared for the government's 1949 savings bond drive, which will start May 15 and last through June 30.

In many respects this campaign will be bigger than the war bond drives. It is the first time since the war that the government has ventured to set a quota—$1,000,000,000 in Series E bonds.

The name of the campaign is "Opportunity Drive." The slogan is "Put More Opportunity in Your Future."

The main reason for the big drive this year is that the U. S. Treasury needs the money. Government expenditures are up and the income from taxes is down. The Treasury's own explanation elaborates.

"The widest possible distribution of our national debt is the responsibility of all of us. Through continued investment in these bonds by individuals we distribute the debt as widely as possible rather than concentrate it in banks, thus securing a better balanced ownership and a less volatile debt. Further, as the debt shifts from banks to persons, billions of dollars of interest go to American homes."

Stunt pilot Billy Fischer, 23, of Decorah, Ia., died in this spectacular crash as his checkerboard-painted plane broke apart during air acrobatics at Jackson, Miss. At left, the plane plunges earthward from 50 feet after a wing and the engine fell off. At upper left, the light plane (circle) nears the end of its death plunge. Fischer was killed instantly as the plane crashed to the runway (lower right) and burst into flames. Spectators rushed to the scene.

The five top quotas set for states are New York, $127,830,000; Illinois, $90,000,000; Pennsylvania, $82,000,000; California, $72,800,000; and Ohio, $62,630,000. Nevada has the smallest quota, $950,000. Quotas for the individual cities are being set by the various states.

To date, about 80,000,000 Americans hold approximately $32,600,000,000 in Series E Bonds. This is greater than at the peak of wartime savings. The Treasury reports that savings through government bond purchases is now the most popular method of saving by American families.

One of the most encouraging facts about the whole government savings bond business since the war, according to Treasury officials, has been the steady decline in the number of persons cashing them in. The first year after the war was the worst, with redemptions exceeding E Bond sales by $87,000,000.

The redemption rate in 1948 was lower than in 1947. The net of E Bond sales above redemptions in 1948 was 210 per cent of that of 1947. Cash-ins for the past three years have averaged less than one per cent a month of the total outstanding.

E Bonds sell for 75 cents on the dollar of maturity value. The E Bond matures in ten years and pays an average of 2 1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity. An individual can purchase up to $10,000 worth of them in any one calendar year.

Scott and Linder Wedding In West

Word comes from the west coast that a former Warren girl, Beatrice Antonia Linder, daughter of Anton F. Linder, of Erie, and the late Mrs. Linder, was united in marriage on April 16 to Robert Seymour Scott, son of Mrs. LaForest Scott and the late Mr. Scott of Los Angeles.

The ceremony took place in the home of the bridegroom, 256 South Lafayette Park Place, Los Angeles, with the Rev. George West Barrett, of St. James Episcopal church, officiating.

Van Roy Magill, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace over silk satin and net and carried ranunculi and lilies of the valley with satin ties.

Mrs. Hot Spring, as matron of honor, wore pale yellow organdy and carried yellow tulips.

Gene Holmes served Mr. Scott as best man.

Riding the Hobby-Horse

As time for the Woman's Club Art Show draws near, definite news about exhibits is coming in. Over at South street school Miss Gwnevere Knapp is directing a class of eager sixth graders in the art of tooling leather.

This work was introduced at South street six or seven years ago and has been flourishing ever since. It is limited by the expense of materials and the lack of real tools but the ingenuity of the teacher and the enthusiasm of the students has resulted in the production of good work.

Substituting nut picks for expensive implements, the class turns out tooled bill folds, key cases, and coin purses, and makes scatter pins out of scraps of leather which would otherwise be wasted.

At Beauty Junior High School, Joseph Spence's art classes are doing interesting work in other materials, notably soap and chip carving, and he expects to have a large display at the Talent Show.

Mr. Spence, a newcomer to Warren, formerly taught art and history in Oil City. "Chip carving is an old art," he said in an interview. "It has been revived and is used not only in schools but as a form of occupational therapy in hospitals. We work on a miniature scale. Bass wood is the best medium but that is unobtainable, so we use soft Philippine mahogany and shellac the finished carvings. Our students are also doing some good work in soap carving."

Mothers who miss their bars of laundry soap will no doubt see some of them carved and on display at the Art Show on May 19, 20, and 21st.

The committee in charge hopes that adults who do wood carving or other three-dimensional work will also enter it in the show.

Ladies' Union Of Irvine Has Meet

Irvine, Apr. 28.—The April meeting of the Ladies Union of the Irvine Presbyterian church, with Mrs. Inez Westfall as hostess, was very well attended.

Mrs. Ernest Crull presided and read part of the sixth chapter of Matthew, with "Prayers for the thought for the evening. Prayers dedicated to the month of April were included in the program and reminded members that "the budding tree and bush are both a promise and a signal from a power on high and no matter how long the winter, the buds will come again. In that great promise are all men's hopes.

During a brief business session, Mrs. Roy Lightner, treasurer, reported receipts of a note of appreciation and a very generous check from the family of the late Anne Brezelle, as a tribute to her memory. Mrs. Mildred Vicander and Mrs. Grace Oviatt reported selection of "The Big Fisherman," a story of Simon Peter by Lloyd Douglas, as the book for presentation to the Warren Public Library as a memorial to Mrs. Brezelle.

Mention was also made that since the meeting in March, seven new members have been received into the church, with three baptisms. The loose collection of the Easter service, when friends from Garland, Pittsfield, Youngville, Warren and Oil City joined with the Irvine group, amounted to $25.12 and the total offering was over $45.

During the pleasant social hour, Mrs. Westfall served delicious refreshments from a table centered with a two-tier arrangement of jonquils and yellow candles.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Crull.

Spring Meeting of District Entertained By Local Business-Professional Women

The Warren Business and Professional Women's Club was hostess to a very enjoyable spring meeting of District One, held in the local YWCA building, when delegates were present from Corry, Erie, Greenville, Meadville, Oil City, Union City and Youngsville clubs.

In the absence of the district chairman, Helen Remler, Meadville, who was vacationing in Bermuda, the co-chairman, Jeanne Caldwell, Erie, presided at the afternoon business session.

The annual reports of club presidents showed all had an active year, giving generously of time and money to various projects in their local communities and to aid those in foreign countries.

To conclude the afternoon program a "Model Club Meeting" was conducted, with Adelaide deMaison, Meadville, acting as president and members of several other clubs taking part.

Ninety-two were at the banquet served at 6 p. m. in the YWCA activities building. An Hawaiian atmosphere was created with palms and table decorations of spring flowers, varied color leis, and candles, shells and pineapples, and each guest was presented with a lei as she entered the dining room. Beautiful dinner music was provided by Dorothy Engstrom, who also played for group singing led by Adelaide deMaison.

Helen Schlaraft, Erie, was toastmaster. The welcome was extended by Ruth Karr, local club president, and the response given by Jeanne Caldwell. The state president, Sarah E. Bernet, of Johnstown, and state second vice president, Agnes Painter, Meadville, were introduced; also Edna Thompson, Russell; Goldie Hill, Youngsville; Adelaide deMaison, Meadville, and Agnes Lynch, Corry, former district chairmen; also the visiting club presidents and their delegates.

Agnes Painter installed the newly elected district officers who will serve the coming year: Jeanne Caldwell, chairman; Mary French, Oil City, co-chairman; Esther Walling, Meadville, secretary; and Carolyn Arnold, Greenville, treasurer.

Tom Cannon, accompanied by Rose Marie Manno, played two lovely violin solos. These talented young people are members of the Beatty school orchestra.

Miss Karr presented a gift of appreciation on behalf of the district to Esther Walling, Meadville club president, to be given to Miss Helen Remler, the retiring district chairman.

Miss Bernet was a charming dinner speaker, reminding the members of the privileges and responsibilities of membership in the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs; telling of the state convention to be held in Bedford Springs, June 3-4-5th, and the Uniform Pay Bill which is before the State Legislature and which the Federation has worked tirelessly to get enacted into law. She urged each member to contact her senator and ask him to vote for this bill.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Emblem Benediction.

Sacred Concert At Youngsville

Youngsville, April 28—Despite the rainy weather, a large audience gathered Tuesday evening in the Evangelical Unity Brethren church for a fine sacred concert presented by the BIC Class of the church school.

A welcome to all present was extended by James Thompson, who also presided. Devotions were led by Rev. Harold Lindquist, pastor.

Program numbers included two solos by Miss Norma Haight, "Open the Gates of the City" and "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth." Two fine numbers were given by the Saron Lutheran male quartet consisting of Gordon Clark, his son, Robert Clark, Rev. Earl Carlson and Edolph Johnson.

There were several out of town groups, including the Jamestown Calvary quartet, heard over the Gospel Bell hour and consisting of Myron Gilbert and Lloyd Bish, of Jamestown, and Walter Forsberg, of Youngsville, formerly of Jamestown. The quartet gave some lovely sacred numbers, with fine harmony and without accompaniment.

Miss Lillian Swanson, of Youngsville, gave a beautiful piano solo. Two talented lads from Starbrick, Tommy and David Peterson, sang several numbers, representing the Salvation Army group. A very good male sextet from the Nazareth church of Warren sang some stirring gospel numbers, including "Keep on the Firing Line" and "Telephone to Glory."

A trumpet trio from Chandeliers Valley gave two numbers and their leader, Max Cagle, played a trumpet solo. The other two members of the trumpet group were the table twins, Stewart Smith, of Youngsville, pleased with a lovely solo, "Stranger From Nazareth." There was also a vocal solo given by one of the Jamestown group. The program closed with a song by the congregation and a benediction by Rev. G. V. Woods, of Warren.

Philomel Giving Exchange Program

A large delegation of Philomel Club members is in Jamestown today for the annual exchange program being given for the Mozart Club. The program, scheduled at 3 p. m., in the Jamestown YWCA, is an all-Gershwin selection.

Romaine Ericsson is being accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lettie Meacham, for her vocal numbers and Rachel Eaton is playing Gershwin Preludes. Directed by Barbara DeFrees and accompanied by Adelaide Swanson, Florence Aldrich giving the resume of the opera.

Singers are Jean Beach, Dorothy Ball, Louise Hampson, Bertha Clark, Violet Borg, Marion Whipple, Helen Potter, Gladys Hagenlocher, Alice Yeager, Edna Lundahl, Thelma Canady, Florence Aldrich, Alice Leidig, Beulah Krebs, and Barbara DeFrees.

Soloists with the chorus for its various numbers are Alice Yeager in "Summertime"; Violet Borg in "I've Got Plenty of Nothin'"; Mrs. DeFrees and Mrs. Borg as a duo in "Bess, You Is My Woman"; Mrs. Borg in "It Ain't Necessarily So" and "I'm On My Way"; while the choristers sing without solo work "There's a Boat That's Leaving Soon".

The entire Philomel club membership was invited for this annual exchange affair and a number of other persons accompanied those presenting the program.

Mrs. Harvey Osgood is president of the Mozart Club this season and Mrs. Albin Anderson is chairman for the tea to follow today's program.

All Twos Club Has Dinner - Program

All Twos Club members of the First Methodist church held their regular meeting at the church, with a chicken chow-mien dinner served by the following committee:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Patchen, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Winans, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kehrl, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pittman. Chinese decorations for the attractively set table were loaned by Miss Pearl Lund.

For a very enjoyable musical program which followed, a flute duet was played by Marcia Stevens and Peggy Eaton; violin and vocal solos by Janet and Joyce Furman; trombone solo, Chuckie Eaton; vocal solos, Dick Cunningham; cornet solos, Johan Stohl; piano solos by John Wood and Mrs. Charles Eaton; vocal solos, Thomas Conrad; piano selections, Mrs. Maurice Cease.

During intermission, a clever and amusing skit, "The Human Calliope", was presented by Burke Forbes, Ken Patchen, Carl Harrison and Albert Miller, with Wayne Mahaffey as emcee.

Announcement was made that the next meeting will be in the form of a family picnic on Monday, May 23, the site and other details to be announced later.

REPORTING

According to a reference book in the Warren public library, today is a legal state holiday in New Hampshire. It seems that the early settlers not only set aside a day for Thanksgiving after the harvest was in, but they designated the fourth Thursday in April as a fast day when they would pray for good crops. Funny just how the Thanksgiving idea caught on, isn't it?

Libraries contain more things than books. For instance, pamphlets are very handy sources of information. The local library has a pamphlet file in the reading room for the use of the public. Also, there is a file of government pamphlets with an index in the regular card catalog. There's information here on the Atlantic Charter, the family income, the making of overalls for children—practically anything a person could want.

Spring housecleaning fever struck the staff yesterday afternoon. The result is a new arrangement of books which will be a convenience to anyone interested in foreign languages as well as the readers who like to find a sizeable collection of modern novels at their fingertips.

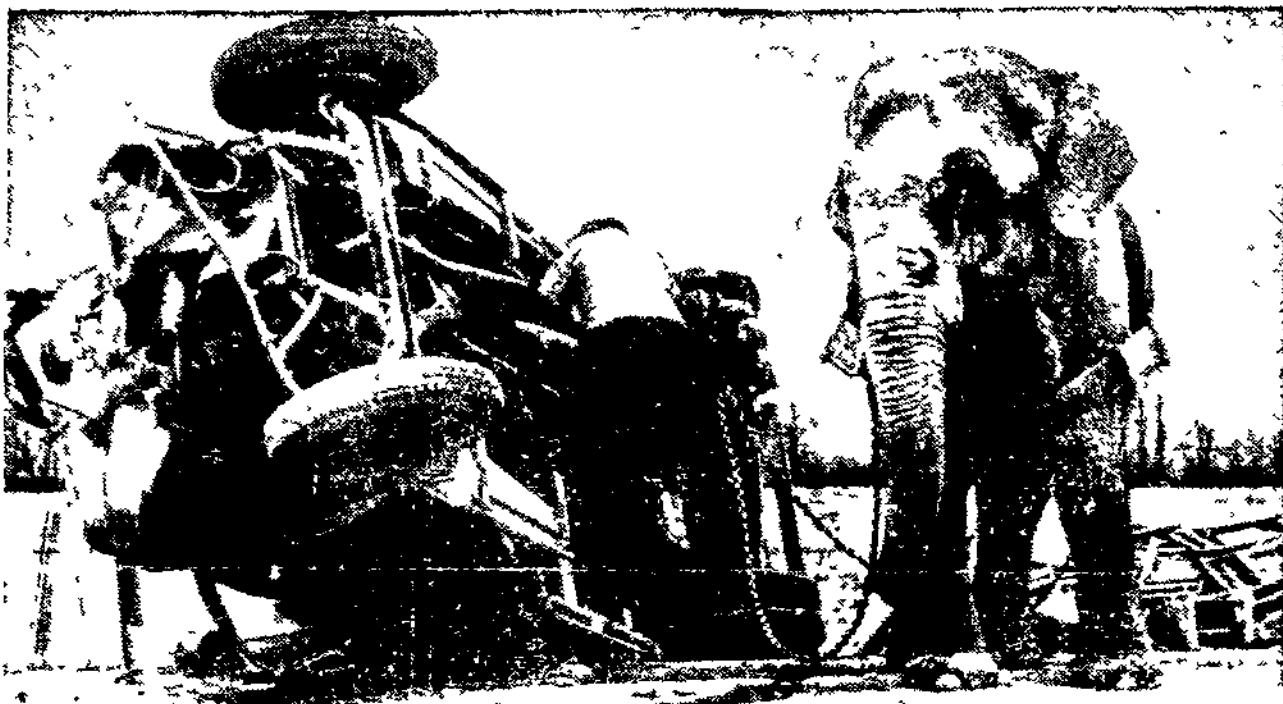

The foreign books have been cached down in the Jefferson Room for years, but they will now be available on shelves which were part of the Teen Age Corner. Also the new fiction is being placed on the shelves back of the parents' collection.

It is hoped that this will prove a satisfaction to the library patrons. Anyway, when spring comes, you just have to move furniture or something.

Don't forget to come in and see the garden display!

Thomas Paine's famous pamphlet, "Common Sense," was published Jan. 10, 1776.

Not in the Act

Big Burma, 7000-pound elephant, is drafted for wrecker service after one of the Mills Brothers Circus trucks upset in a ditch en route from its winter quarters in Circleville, O., to its opening stand in Chillicothe, O. The mighty Burma righted the truck and then pulled it up on the highway.

TIDIOUTE

Tidioute, April 28—Mrs. Edward Albert, president, was in charge of the April meeting of the PTA, held in the high school auditorium, and introduced the guest speaker, James Hindman, head of the veterans' administration in Franklin. His topic was "Universal Military Training".

Pharmacy Week Is Dedicated To The Cancer Campaign

National Pharmacy Week, observed here this week, is dedicated to the fight against cancer and local druggists are participating with a two-fold objective.

Sponsored by the American Pharmaceutical Association, the week will be used to stress the importance of 1: cancer education and 2: to call attention to the annual fund-raising campaign of the American Cancer Society.

The association which throughout the year sponsors a cancer education project, has asked pharmacists this week to step up their efforts in distributing literature and displaying cancer posters as a means of cooperating with the Venango county unit of the American Cancer Society in its drive and educational program.

In addition, local druggists will call attention to the American Cancer Society drive with special window displays and wall posters.

Speaking for his profession, a proprietor of a local pharmacy said, "Pharmacists are keenly aware of the value of community health. Cancer poses the most serious health problem today. In this profession we are well aware of the terrible suffering and cost of this disease. National Pharmacy Week can help the program of cancer control by urging people to have frequent medical examinations, to be alert for cancer's danger signs and to aid the American Cancer Society's work with their contributions."

The keynote of the Pharmacy Week program was expressed in a special pamphlet being distributed this week. The summary reads: "Thus, the program of the American Cancer Society is a three-pronged attack (research, education and service) to which cancer must capitulate eventually—if you continue to do your part."

GARLAND

Mr. and Mrs. John Clancy have gone to Cleveland for a few days vacation, hoping to see a few ball games.

Neighbors gathered in the community house Saturday evening for a friendly get-together.

Under the leaves where it has been somewhat protected from the heavy April frosts, the lovely trailing arbutus can be found on the hillsides around our village.

Mrs. I. Stec, Mrs. W. C. Leofsky, Mrs. Henry Leofsky, Mrs. Frank Stec and Mrs. Edward Stec attended a shower given by Mrs. Zeech of Cory Sunday honoring her daughter Sophia who will become the bride of Leo Stec, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Isador Stec of this place. The wedding date has been set for May 14th. The bride-elect received some lovely gifts for her new home.

The Presbyterian cemetery association met Saturday afternoon in the church for a business session. New officers were chosen and a general discussion held for the benefit of the up-keep. Saturday, April 30, has been chosen for all to gather in the cemetery in a clean up. Men as well as women are urged to help as last summer the work there was badly neglected and much has to be done. Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
New York, April 28.—If you have any money around the house looking for work, according to the financial experts you must have, and they will like to see you are holding onto it. The talks are beginning to complain that they have plenty of money to lend, and that people waiting to borrow.
A lot of people are getting ready to point out ways you can put your money to work in many parts of the world. But there are about a million in Wall Street who think money should begin at home.
They note that recently American industry has been trying to argue without much success to get you to risk some of your money in the "underdeveloped" areas of the world. But the council wants to make sure it is done by a "free flow of private capital investments"—no U. S. government handouts.
2. Commerce Secretary Sawyer agrees that private business must do the major part of the work of financing and carrying out the president's program. And more, Sawyer says Americans must be assured by one means or another, that they can get both their profits and their original investment out of the foreign countries in the form of American dollars. He doesn't say just how.
3. The world bank draws a line at becoming a "relief agency." Robert L. Garner, vice president of the bank says it will go right on making loans on economic rather than "social or relief" grounds. He says it isn't the bank's task "to

Start Spading Garden as Soon as Soil Crumbles

If you want your garden plot to be well prepared space it yourself. Weeks may slip by waiting for a plowman to do a job which by the proper approach, can be reduced to enjoyable and beneficial exercise.

The secret is to take it easy. Spading is not hard work if done a little at a time. A space 4x50 feet can be spaded in a leisurely way in eight hours. One hour a day for eight days, and the job is done.

But first, be sure the soil is in condition to spade. If the soil is heavy, don't wait until it has become too dry. There is a point between extremes when even heavy clay can easily be lifted, and will crumble under a blow from the spade. You can tell this point by using the "mud pie" test.

Take a ball of earth in your hand, and pat it to make a mud pie. If the pie holds together, the soil is too wet to spade. If it crumbles, then you can go ahead.

Systematic spading makes the job easier and more complete. Here is one way to do it. Set a definite task for your first day's work, say a strip six feet wide, running the shortest dimension of the garden. At one end dig a ditch, say one foot wide and the depth of the spade, removing all soil from it. Fill this soil near the opposite end of the strip.

Now begin to spade with the blade not parallel to the trench, but at right angles to it. This enables you to lift the soil more easily, and deposit it in the trench. The spade should be driven down, not at a slant, but perpendicularly to its full depth. Take a small slice of the soil so your back is not strained. Lift it up, turn the spade over, so that the top of the blade underneath and bottom soil is up. In doing the first trench, you have obtained a second.

If you wish to spade under manure, spread it evenly on the surface except for the top of your initial trench. When this first trench has been dug, clean the manure from the top of the next trench and throw it into the bottom of the first.

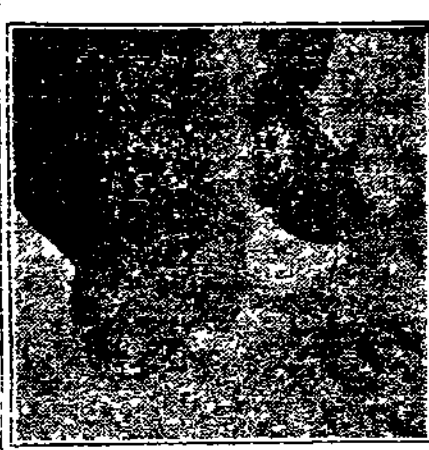

Underground water, near 100-foot lava beds not far from Milan, Italy, is to be tapped with the aid of American machinery to obtain high pressure steam to operate turbine electric generators.

4. On a purely domestic level, federal reserve system members note that since the first of the year, commercial, industrial and agricultural loans have dropped more than $1 billion.

In other words, at a time when American business is slowing down and needing less day-by-day operational money, the chance to put money in foreign investments is about to be given a push. It's a big deal, anyway you look at it.

When Soil Crumbles in the Hand, It Is Dry Enough to Work.

Drive the Spade Straight Down, Full Length, for Best Results.

first; then proceed with your spading, piling the soil on top of the manure.

When you have finished your day's quota, you will have an empty trench which should be filled with the soil you removed from the top of the next trench and throw it into the bottom of the first.

Indians' Double-Kill Combination Goes Into Action

Joe Gordon (No. 4), Cleveland second baseman, fell flat in shoveling the ball to manager Lou Boudreau to pick off the Detroit Tigers' third baseman Vico as the first half of a sensational double play at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium. Boudreau then rifled the ball to first in time to catch Hutchinson and complete the fast twin kill. The action came in the second inning of the world champion Tribe's first home game of the season, which Cleveland won 4 to 3. Umpire is Bill Grieve.

BIG THRILL that's an even bigger buy

This is what they tell us:

That no matter how much you expect of this ROADMASTER when you take one over, you find you get even more.

That no matter how much you've heard about Dynaflo Drive, and how it works, the actual feel and handling of it is a satisfaction beyond expression.

That there's a real bang in discovering a car that's big and roomy and impressive in bearing — and still nimble as a cat in traffic and tireless as an antelope on the open road.

In short, that here's a thrill that's fresh and new and exciting — and certainly far beyond the price this ROADMASTER carries.

Truth is, ROADMASTER is something really rare in its field — a truly top-drawer car with price appeal! Its merits command your respect — its price tags call for prompt action.

Yes, take a good sharp look at the money side of the big-car market today. With deliveries easing under increasing factory production, one such look will have you getting a firm order in right now!

Injuries To Key Men In Flag Races Overshadow Results of Games Played In the Majors

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Injuries to Stan Rojek, Bob Elliott and Lou Boudreau, all key men in the major league pennant race, overshadow the scores in the baseball news.

Rojek's injury may be the most important. If the Pittsburgh Pirates' "hustle guy" of Biller's infield, is lost for any appreciable time, the Pirates' pennant hopes go a-glimmering.

Pitched ball by Ken Johnson, St. Louis pitcher, struck Rojek near the left eye in the ninth night at Sportsman's Park. Walked a short distance and speeded just as teammates reached him.

Early reports from the hospital stated that no fracture was found.

The incident took most of the rest of the Pirates' 7-1 victory over the Cardinals. It should have been a big night for the Pirates. Murry Dickson, the ex-Philadelphia pitcher, was purchased for $100,000 last winter, and an 8-3 victory over Cincinnati.

loss on Fireman Joe Page. Pitcher Forest Thompson doubled, took third on Ralph Houk's error and scored on Sam Dent's single.

Another seven-game losing streak was broken when the St. Louis Browns shaded the Detroit Tigers, 4-3 in 12 innings with Karl Drews, the Yankee car-toff, out-pitching Hal Newhouse.

Vern (Junior) Stephens had a big batting day for the Boston Red Sox in a 10-6 romp over the Philadelphia A's. Stephens hit two homers and a single, driving in five runs.

National League day action was featured by the New York Giants' 11-8 win over Brooklyn in a wild contest at the Polo Grounds. Rookie Pete Milne's pinch homer with the bases loaded helped the Giants come from behind after blowing a 6-0 lead.

Johnny Vander Meer full victim of an old ailment—wildness—which Chicago's Cubs turned into a six-run rally and an 8-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Army Hard-Pressed to Beat Boston in Spring Gridiron Tilt

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A spring football game that came mighty close to being an Army top secret gave early evidence of two things.

West Point will run at Penn State, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Navy and the others next fall despite the loss of 19 lettermen from its two-platoon system.

Boston University, in its third year under Buff Donelli, served notice that it is ready for the big time.

Ed Cahill of the Lynn, Mass., Daily Evening Item, who had a spy there, tells how the Cadets twice came from behind at Michie Stadium to squeeze out a six-point victory over the revitalized Terriers in an exciting 60-minute engagement that climaxed spring practice, and which both sides wanted kept quiet. Present for the hush-hush brush were 300 lucky cadets, brass which included former Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall, and Sports Editor Cahill's fifth columnist.

They saw a Harry Agganis pass dropped on Army's six-yard line in the last minute that, had it been caught, easily might have given Boston U. a tie or victory. And none of the spectators left when the two squads scrimmaged against each other for 25 minutes after the regulation time.

Red Blaik considered Army's defense fair, the offense not too sharp, which was what could be expected at this stage.

A FINE plebe class reported to the West Point varsity, including Coach Blaik's 19-year-old son, Bob, a T-formation quarterback of rare promise.

The Military Academy graduated, or used up the eligibility of its 1948 defensive unit from tackle to tackle and the four back-ups, yet has 11 numeral winners.

Back for more are the remarkable T quarterback, Arnold Galiffa, the extraordinary fullback Gil Stephenson, and halfbacks Hal Schultz and Jim Cain. Schultz substituted for Bobby Jack Stuart when the latter was hurt in the Navy battle. Cain ran the sprints and a quarter-mile on the relay team the past winter.

Danny Foldberg, who broke a collarbone in the Stanford game last autumn, and Capt. John Trent are ends. Bruce Ackerson and Benny Davis are tackles. Bobb Lunn and Charley Galloway guards. Yo-Yo Yeoman is gone, but when he went out, Ray Maladowitz played all but 20 minutes of the Navy game at center.

Boston's freshmen sent Coach Donelli some sizable lads who can move, including the incomparable left-handed passer, Harry Agganis, who was sought by 70-odd colleges while completing a phenomenal career at Lynn Classical High.

Harry Agganis is so good that he even has Buff Donelli, the builder, doing things left-handed.

Bowling Averages For the 1949 Season Show Big Increase

Local bowlers recall that in the past several years a 150 or better average bowler was a scarce animal around these parts. But the situation is different this season—and you can pick up an argument in a hurry as to just what's causing all this upsurge in scores.

Take the City League for example. Forty-six keggers completed in the circuit this year, and 17 of them more than a third are sporting averages of 180 or better. Harry Wooster leads the list with 192; his brother, Norm, is a notch behind with 191; and Harold Clepper is credited with 189.

The situation is just about the same in the Industrial League. Forty-two pin totallers completed in this circuit, and 12 of them own averages of 190 or better. Norm Wooster is at the head of the parade with 192 and Frank Gerardi stands second high with 189. The league this season is sharing the prize money for the top eight high average bowlers, and C. Stephens and Dick Check find themselves rolled out with a thumping 183 averages.

Here's the official averages for both leagues:

Gra-Y Field Day Is Set For Saturday

Saturday will be Field Day for members of Gray-Y clubs in Warren.

The event will be staged on Beatty field, starting at 9:30 a. m., under the sponsorship of the Phalaris Club and the YMCA.

Ten big events are listed on the program, and boys may sign up for any four of them. The Field Day will be open to boys who are 8 to 13 years of age, and who are enrolled in the Gray-Y or the YMCA.

The Field Day events are as follows:

Barrel boxing—Boys box with pillows in barrel until one opponent is upset.

Baseball throw for distance.

Base running around a ball diamond.

Football throw for accuracy.

Bicycle races—one racing at a time for speed runs.

Basketball free throw contest—best out of 15 shots from foul line.

25, 50, 75 yard dashes by age groups.

Base races.

Base jump.

Tug of war—15-man team from each school.

Ribbons for first, second and third place will be awarded for the events. In addition, a gold YMCA belt buckle will be awarded to the top performer in the basketball four yard contest, and a trophy will be presented to the winning team in the tug of war.

BUCS IN FIRST PLACE TIE; ROJEK INJURED

St. Louis, April 28—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates were in a first-place tie with the New York Giants today after downing the St. Louis Cardinals 7-1 last night on a seven-hit job by Murry Dickson, an ex-card.

In the ninth inning, shortstop Stan Rojek was hit on the head by a pitched ball and was carried, bleeding and dazed from the field. A doctor later reported his condition "serious but not critical."

The Bucs knocked out starter Howie Pollet before he retired a man in the first inning with five straight singles. Four runs came in. The scoring was helped by a two-run bobbie by Stan Musial.

The lone Redbird run came in the second on a walk to Nippy Jones, a single by Ed Kazak, and an error by Rojek.

PHILLY AGAIN GETS ARMY AND NAVY GAME

Philadelphia, April 28—(AP)—The Army-Navy football game again will be played in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium this fall.

Mayor Bernard Samuel announced yesterday he received word from Army Athletic authorities at West Point that "all obstacles to holding the game in Philadelphia next fall had been removed."

He said officials at the Naval Academy previously had expressed themselves as in favor of Philadelphia's stadium seating 100,000.

There had been reports the Army and Navy were considering playing the game elsewhere.

Except for the war years of 1942-43-44 the game has been played here since 1924. The gridiron classic was played at Annapolis in 1942, West Point the following year and Baltimore in 1944.

LOUIS LAUNCHES HIS CAREER AS PROMOTER

Detroit, April 28—(AP)—Joe Louis' career as a fight promoter began auspiciously here last night with former Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey and Featherweight Champion Willie Pep in supporting roles.

A crowd of 10,062 fans saw the debut of the International Boxing Club with retired heavyweight champ Louis as promoter and matchmaker for a hand-picked card which grossed $21,490.60.

Even a four-round exhibition between Champion Pep and Ellis Ask, featherweight titlist of Finland, turned out to be a rough scrap, though fought with 12-ounce gloves.

The red tree mouse of the Pacific Coast will star unless it can get the needles of the Douglas fir tree to eat.

Today's lesson hand is from Fred L. Karpin, of Washington, D. C., author of the booklet entitled "The Point-Count System of Bidding in Contract Bridge."

In the point-count system, an ace equals four points, a king equals three, a queen two, and a jack one. An opening bid of one no trump is made on a balanced hand (4-4-3-2, 4-3-3-3, 5-3-3-2), which contains from 16 to 18 points and has positive stoppers in at least three suits.

In order to make a game, 25 points are needed in the combined hands. For a small slam, 33 points are needed, and for a grand slam, 38 points.

When South opened the bidding on today's hand with one no

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

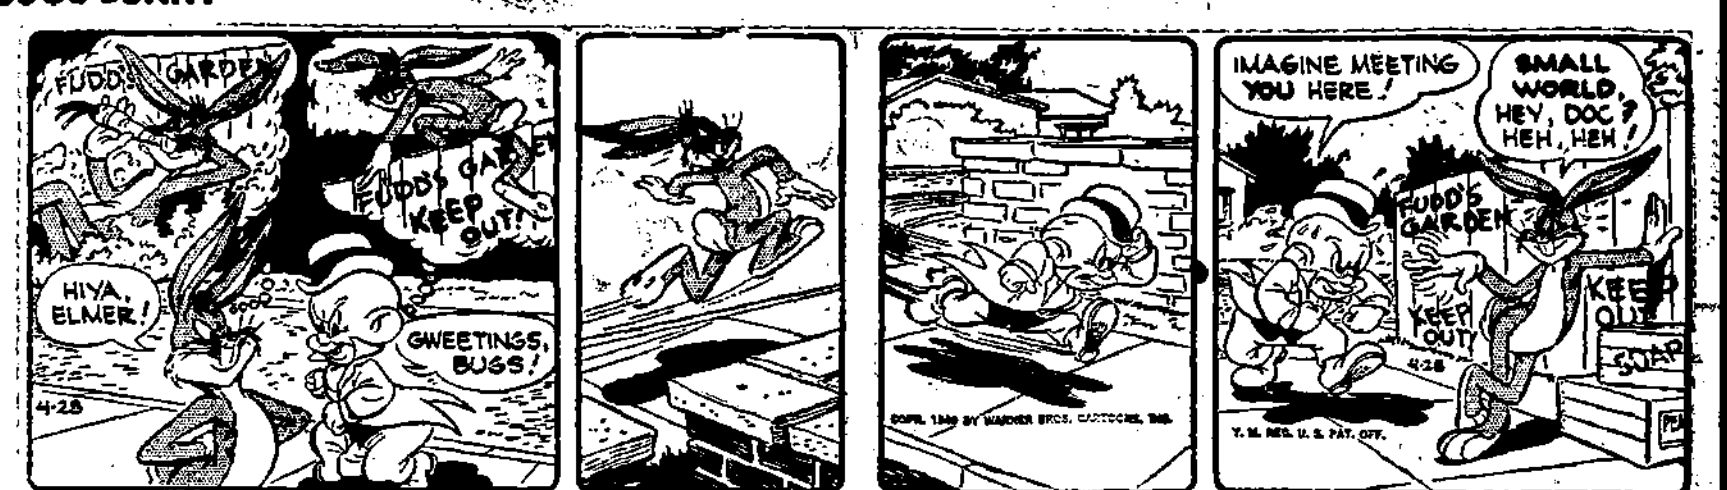

Youngville, April 27 — Francis Newgren, who has been for a short time the guest of his sister, Mrs. Marjorie Horner, North Main street, left Sunday evening for New York City by train. Tuesday of this week, he flew from New York to Miami, Fla., and from there will go to the small island of Aruba in the Caribbean Sea. This small island, 20 miles long and five miles wide, has a colony of about 10,000 employees of the Lago Oil Transfer Company, a Canadian branch of Standard Oil Company. The island is surrounded by oil wells, all drilled in the bed of the ocean with derricks above the ocean surface. Mr. Newgren has a position in the company's large dispensary. There are several other people on Aruba from this part of the world, among them Mr. and Mrs. Dase and son, of Warren.

Water does not freeze at freezing-point, but at a considerably lower temperature. Really pure, clean water, free of particles that might serve as nuclei or starting points of freezing, does not begin to crystallize into ice at zero Centigrade, but at zero Fahrenheit, or a little below it.

Asia, in population and square miles, is by far the largest of the continents.
